DEDICATION

For George and Myles, my grandsons, who fill my heart with feelings I've never had to explore before.

There is a love for one's Mother and Father. A love that has no words when you find the person who finishes your life, and the love that explodes your heart when you hold your newborn child.

..... BUT GRANDCHILDREN.....

If you're ever lucky enough to have to put into words the feeling of watching your daughter grow with child, or worry on her day of delivery, or cry some of the happiest tears of your life when you hold that new little life... and think....a part of me made this possible!

Thanks, 'Critter and Bug'

Love you to the moon and back

Mémère

A whimsical illustration of a girl with purple hair and a crown lying under a purple blanket in a dreamy room. The girl's face is partially visible on the right, showing large purple eyes and a golden crown adorned with blue and purple jewels. She is lying under a thick, plush purple blanket. In the background, a lamp with a floral pattern and pink tassels glows warmly. The wall is dark purple with a large pink star and a string of pearls hanging from the top right. The overall atmosphere is magical and dreamlike.

who believes in tiny wonders, soft dreams, and magic hidden in the everyday world.

May you always notice the utter of wings, the sparkle in the air, and the quiet little joys that dance around you.

And to the parents, teachers, and loved ones who fill children's lives with warmth, laughter, and bedtime dreams.

This book is for all the dreamers, the believers, and every little heart that still looks for magic before saying good night.
